

Statement of Roust Corporation regarding its Q1 2017 report and quarterly earnings conference call

The Company is currently finalizing its consolidated financial statements. Due to the complexity of this process (which is being done for the first time post-restructuring), including the complex treatment of the restructuring transactions as well as incorporating RSV and other entities that were not previously reported based on GAAP, this process has taken several days longer than planned.

The Company is planning to finalize and, following review by the Audit Committee/Board, publish the 10-Q this week and have a call with investors early next week.
