

Russian Standard Platinum celebrates drinks awards victory

29 Nov 2017

Russian Standard Vodka, the world's number one premium Russian vodka, has won a Silver medal for its super-premium Russian Standard Platinum brand, at The Grocer Drink Awards 2017.

Russian Standard Platinum was awarded the prestigious accolade in the Vodka category and the success was announced at a glamorous awards event at Westminster's County Hall in London this month.

Born out of a passion for perfection, Russian Standard Platinum employs a proprietary silver filtration system for natural refinement, which produces a liquid with a cleaner, smoother, superior taste.

Daniel Woolfson, The Grocer's Senior Drinks Reporter, said: «Our expert judges — and indeed our consumer judging panels — were incredibly discerning. Russian Standard Platinum should be justifiably proud.»
